Hannah McSorley MCIArb

Call: 2010

Hannah McSorley is a leading junior family law specialist with a strong commercial sense and a reputation for calm confident advocacy.

Most of her work is in family finances – where she represents people from all walks of life robustly, sensibly and with empathy. Hannah is confident dealing with HNW individuals, as with more modest cases and will give clear advice and fight tenaciously where needed.

Hannah takes on some pro bono work, via Advocate.

Family Finance & Financial Remedy

Hannah is a finance specialist who deals with all aspects of financial relief on relationship breakdown including applications brought under the Matrimonial Causes Act 1973, Schedule 1 to the Children Act 1989, the Trusts of Land and Appointment of Trustees Act 1996 and the Inheritance (provision for family and dependents) Act 1975. She is confident in drafting pleadings and dealing with complex trust and company documents and has a particular interest in cases involving intervenors.

Private Law Children

Hannah advises parents and Guardians in private law proceedings relating to children.
