

Paige Campbell

Call: 2018

Paige is an award-winning barrister having received the 'highly commended' award in the Young Barrister of the Year Category in 2021 and 2023. She was also 'highly commended' in the Case of the Year category at the Family Law Awards in 2021 where she was led as a junior in the Supreme Court case of G v G [2021] UKSC 9. Accordingly, Paige is experienced acting alone and as junior counsel.

Paige specialises in all aspects of child law, both private and public as well as international. Paige has experience acting on behalf of clients at all stages of proceedings including in complex, multi-day fact-finding hearings, final hearings and in international cases in the High Court.

Paige adopts a pragmatic approach tailored to each of her client's needs utilising her skill for negotiation and clear, composed and empathetic advocacy at appropriate times. Paige is also a certified ADR-ODR civil-commercial mediator.

In addition to her court work, Paige has a keen interest in widening participation and is actively involved in mentoring, and giving talks to, young people from disadvantaged and underrepresented backgrounds and sits as a trustee for an education charity. Paige is currently a member of the South-Eastern Circuit executive committee. In her spare time, she is a violinist, pianist and choral singer.

Private Law Children

Paige has a rapidly growing private law practice in which she acts on behalf of applicants, respondents and Rule 16.4 Guardians. Paige has experience handling cases involving intractable disputes in respect of child arrangements, parental alienation and allegations of domestic, sexual and physical abuse.

Paige has expertise in cases with an international element and in particular has acted on behalf of applicants and
